Dear Gertrude:

I am enclosing a copy of "Grandfather Michaelis' Diary". I have been wanting to send it for some time but it just seemed like I could never get it off. I believe you will enjoy reading it.

I didn't see Betty at Bucynd when I returned. Did she stop there?

I left all my furniture in the house at Bucyna and came up to East Cleveland the 1st of December. Next month I am going down & sell some of my things & put some in storage until I know what I want to do.*

For the last month I have been going to a commercial school reviewing my shorthand - as I want to get a job. Its been taking lots of studying and concentration.

I don't care a whole lot about Cleveland but have discovered it has a wonderful library. Its a lovely building with every kind and description of books. Cleveland also has a very nice Art Museum.

This last fall my sister Helene & I went to New York City. From Albany we took a boat down the Hudson River to New York. It certainly is a wonderful trip. We were there several days, taking in some shows and we also went to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, also shopping.

My sister Thress & I had a very nice time at Rocky Mountain National Park last summer, after I left Oakland. We enjoyed horseback riding in the "wilds" and it makes me want to go back again, or some similar place.

* After disposing of my things I — will be in Cleveland for a while, anyway.

Just at present I am battling bronchitis. Have been off from school on account of it, so when I get it, I get it bad. I have some California sunshine in the form of a Sun Lamp and it has been helping me a lot but I guess its the damp climate that gets me. We have had quite a bit of snow and changeable weather.

Hazel Sheetz (John's wife) gave a talk on "Quilts" last Sunday afternoon in the Lecture Hall of the Art Museum. She has made a hobby of quilts and has given quite a few talks - $25⁰⁰ a talk. Not a bad hobby is it? She has put a lot of time in preparing illustrated patterns, etc. though. We all like Hazel very much.

Received your Christmas card and thanks for it. John and I were down to Columbus for Christmas & helped Roger enjoy his toys.

Mother has been pretty well this winter but she hasn't been outside much as the sidewalks have been so icy and we haven't any car - though the streets have been very icy too. A neighbor took me downtown in his car one morning when the streets were icy and we took the nicest route across the street, however, no street car or auto's were near or it would have been a smash-up.

We have a California pest in Ohio - the Sales Tax ^{3%} practically on everything from 9¢ up. The only things exempted are milk in bottle form - bread in loaf form & newspapers. They even tax us to die. As a wag said - the dead don't have to worry about paying the tax.

Regards to all.

Sincerely

Ruth Christman

John C. Teel.

John C. Teel was the son of John Teel and Catherine . . . He was born in Warren County, N.J., March 4, 1796. (~~Sept 26~~?) He learned the blacksmith trade and decided to seek his fortune in the West where so many other adventuresome young men were migrating.

John migrated to Ashland, Ohio sometime before 1821. ^{before he was 21.} Either en route or in Ohio he met the Link family and Mary whom he married June 12, 1817, at the age of 21. (He may have met the Links on his way West as they did not come to Ohio till 1819.)

Mary Link was born Sept. 26, 1796, died Feb 3, 1864, (born same year as her husband.) age 68

John C. moved to Guernsey County where he purchased a small farm. His son George W. managed this farm while ^{his} father John C. followed his blacksmith trade. (George born May 16, 1821.)

John C. Teel died Sept. 15 1881, ^{B. 1796} at the age of 75. (1) 85

Mary Link, his wife, daughter of Adam was born September 26, 1796 - died February 3, 1864 at age of 68.

Mrs. Elizabeth Monkley Tiel born in Liberty Township,

Jonathan Link

Jonathan Link was an older brother of Adam Link. He located on the land of Hugh (or Robert) Erskine three miles south of West Alexander, Virginia. His home was on the right bank of the middle fork of Wheeling Creek - three miles south of West Alexander ^{and} a few feet east of the West Virginia line. Here he built a blockhouse near the present town of Philadelphia.

Jonathan was carried off by the Indians along with Elizabeth Hawkins, a neighbor girl. He was scalped by the Indians. This happened in 1781.

Jonathan and Edama were associated with the Poe brothers, Adam & Andrew whose land was in Hanover Township. George Poe was their father and lived in Frederickburg, Frederick Co. Md. probably near Hagerstown. Andrew Poe was born Sept 30, 1742 and Adam Poe was born 1747.

This loss brought great hardships to the Link family from being well-to-do and prosperous for a poorer family; they suffered great privations and dangers during the Revolutionary War. The family became scattered until the close of the Revolution - some returned to Baltimore where the father of Mrs. Link (wife #2) lived.

John C. Teel

John C. Teel was the son of John Teel and Catherine _____. He was born in Warren County, N.J. March 4, 1796. He learned the blacksmith trade and decided to seek his future in the west where so many adventuresome young men were migrating. Being one of ten children it is easy to understand perhaps a lack of opportunity in his home area which was rural.

John C. migrated to Ashland, Ohio sometime before 1821. Either enroute to or in Ohio he met the Link family and Mary Link to whom he was married June 12, 1817 at the age of 21. Since the Links came to Ohio in 1819 he probably met the Links earlier on his journey west. Mary was born September 26, 1796.

John C. moved to Guernsey County, Ohio where he purchased a small farm. His son George Washington Teel managed the farm and John C. followed his blacksmith trade. He lived to the ripe old age of 95 years. He died September 1881. Mary died Feb. 3, 1864 at the age of 66.

Teel Family

I Henry G. Teel was born September 28, 1728. He settled in Knowlton Township, Warren County, New Jersey before the American Revolution. Where he was born has not yet come to light. Henry's wife was Christeenah, born in 1730. They had six children. They were probably married in 1757 as their first child was born 1758.

Henry or his father was a native of Holland (according to conflicting statements the Teels were 1) English origin 2. of German origin.) In the period 1702-1727 forty to fifty thousand Germans fled their native land because of the ravages of the troops of Louis XIV of France under their leader Turenne. Many of the settlers in Northern New Jersey emigrated from Germany at this time and the Teels may have been among them.

Henry G. Teel died July 2, 1795 at the age of 67. Christeenah died the same year March 25, 1795 at the age of 65. Will dated Knowlton June 12, 1795

Additional: In The History of Sussex and Warren Counties, New Jersey, edited by Snell - Page 625, there is a notation to the effect that "Henry Teale is to have at the rate of nine pounds, five shillings a year for as long as he shall keep the widow Deshay, dated 1775.

The Markley Family

It is not known whether John Markley (the earliest known progenitor of the family) was born in America or Europe, but it is thought he was born in Germany. (An aged uncle of Joseph Markley of Canton Ohio who remembered Peter, grandson of John, and others of the early Markleys said they seemed to be English speaking people, implying they were of English origin.)

The name Markley may have been Merckel - Merkell.

In the early days of the 18th century, a number of Markleys were found in Philadelphia and Lancaster counties in Pennsylvania and also in the state of New Jersey. Many Markleys are found in these vicinities today.

The Treaty of Fort Stanwix made in 1768 terminated the Indian title to the land in the central part of Pennsylvania where the Markleys settled. Before 1768 this was Indian Territory and not open to white settlement. However there were many brave settlers there prior to that time and the Markleys may have been among them. It is certain they were there at the time of the treaty or just after. Records show the Markleys to have already cleared 10 acres and had considerable livestock in 1772.

The original county was Cumberland.
Out of this was created Bedford County in 1771, and out of this county was created Somerset County.
The Marshleys lived in Brothier's Valley
- Township, Somerset County, Pa.
~~before the revolution~~.

Henry S. Teel was born September 28, 1725. He settled in Knowlton Township, Warren County, New Jersey before the American Revolution. His wife was Christeenah _____ born ~~1730~~ 1730. They had six children. (Probably married in 1757 as their first child was born in 1758.)

Henry or his father was a native of Holland (according to conflicting statements the Teels were of 1) English origin 2) of German origin.) In the period 1702-1727 forty to fifty thousand Germans fled their native land because of the ravages of the troops of Louis XIV of France under their leader Turenne. Many of the settlers in Northern New Jersey emigrated from Germany at this time and the Teels may have been among these.

In the History of Sussex and Warren Counties, N.J. edited by Snell, page 625, there is a notation to the effect that "Henry Teall is to have at the rate of nine pounds, five shillings a year for as long as he shall keep the widow Deshory - dated 1775".

Henry S. Teel died July 2, 1795. Christeenah the same year March 25, 1795 at the age of 65.
Will dated Knowlton, June 12, 1795.

John and Catherine had ten children.
(John is said to have settled in Hardwick Township in 1755 taking up land which is (?) still in the possession of his descendants.)

which was very modest but picturesque. Both the house and carriage repair shop were on the large lot on which were fruit trees and an old water wheel on Walla Walla Creek behind the shop which added to the quaintness of the home.

Here the family lived, the children grew up and married one by one.

C. Perry attended the local schools and was well known during his high school years as an athlete and debator.

In 1906 while Gertrude Mcelaels was attending Whitman college she met C. P. and they became engaged. In the summer of 1907 they visited her parents who had a homestead on the St. Joe River in Idaho. (In order to reach the property to which there was no road they poled on a raft up the river.)

They were married in Sept 4, 1907 in Spokane Washington. During that fall, C. P. took a business college course in Spokane. Later they moved to Chelanah where Gertrude's parents Ernest & Ella had purchased a farm. This was soon sold so they moved back to Spokane where Gertrude Elizabeth was born on ^{July 11, 1908} 1321 Knox Avenue. E. R. didn't wait long. He bought a farm at Goldie, Wash. to which the young couple and child moved. Here they had to set about clearing the land of trees and stumps. C. P. was helped by his brother Ben, both men being strong and healthy. E. R. sold this property about 1910 ^{the family} and moved back to Spokane. E. R. next bought 360 acres near Bossburg Washington where the family lived for 9 years from 1911 to 1920. During that time C. P. and Gertrude were able to agree $\frac{1}{2}$ interest in the farm so they were all to begin to accumulate a nest egg. Elaine was born 1910 - Feb 1915

March 5 ^{age 25}

In 1917 C. P. and Gertrude had gone to California to work in the shipyards as a tinsmith which he had learned as a trade. In 1919, Ella, having disposed of their Spokane property & Eckwa Hotel, left to join her husband in Oakland, California.

In 1920 after the war and during inflationary times, C.P. and Gertrude sold the ranch and moved to Calif. ^{where} San ^{b. was born} Ernest again began his "shilling" for ranch land ^{and 1920}. Calif. and in 1921 bought part of a large grant near Pajaro, Calif. The birds didn't succeed in this land but moved there never-the-less to try to bring a "fanned out" piece of property into production, but it was a hopeless task. E. R.'s idea was to subdivide the property to sell it to a large number of people, but it didn't work out. C. P.'s heart wasn't in it and P. R. traded it after a year for an apartment on Laguna and Vallejo Streets in S. F. He in turn traded that for a prime and beautiful orchard ranch ~~an~~ near Morgan Hill where they lived for several years.

C. P. and Gertrude and children had moved back to Oakland with their share of the money from the ranch in Washington still intact, & they decided Oakland had a future and decided to invest therein. They purchased property at 1439 Franklin Street a large old Victorian house to which the family moved. In the meantime after a short stint of working for a large ^(page 1) truck manufacturer C. P. started up his own business manufacturing automobile trunks at 1101 1/2 East 12th Street. Later he moved to Broadway where he gradually became a wholesale jobber which he began known as C. P. Trunk Co.

began to accumulate a nest egg. Elaine was born in Spokane March 8, 1910 and Ted was born either in Colville or on the farm August 28, 1915.

In 1917 Ernest Michaelis had gone to California to work in the Shipyards as a tinsmith which he had learned as a trade. In 1919, having disposed of their Spokane property and Tekoa Hotel, Ella left to join her husband in Oakland, California.

In 1920 after the war and during inflationary times C. P. and Gertrude sold the ranch near Bossburg and moved to California. It was mid winter and as was the custom, they held a huge auction to sell off the live stock and equipment.

The family slipped their Overland car and a small amount of furniture and took the train to California where Ernest met the family at the 16th Street Station in Oakland. Gertrude was pregnant again and shortly on April 10, 1920, Laura Lucina was born.

It was difficult to find housing in that period after the war but the family finally found a house on 55th Street near San Pablo where they lived for about six months.

Ernest was again "shopping" for land in California and in 1921 bought part of a land grant near Napa, California, ~~and in 1921~~. The Hunts didn't invest in this land but moved there never-the-less to try to bring a "farmed out" piece of land into production but it was a hopeless task. E. R.'s idea was to subdivide the property and to sell it to people who would want a small parcel of land, but it wasn't in demand. C. P.'s heart wasn't in it and E. R. traded it for an apartment house on Laguna and Vallejo in San Francisco. He in turn traded that for a prune and almond orchard.

When they lived near Morgan Hill for several years.

C. P. and Gertrude, with their share of money from the Brossing ranch still intact does had moved back to Oakland. They decided Oakland had a future and would put their roots down there. They purchased property at 1939 Franklin Street an old large Victorian house to which the family moved in 1922.

In the meantime after a short stint of working for a large truck manufacturer, Frageol Company. C. P. started his own business manufacturing automobile trunks at 1101 ~~#~~ 12th Street known as The Oakland Trunk Works. In the initial stages, he had the help of his father-in-law. Later he moved to Broadway and finally to the present buildings on Webster Street. The name and nature of the business was changed to the C. P. Hunt Company and it became an automobile wholesale jobber of accessories.

In 1925 having had architectural plans drawn by a Mr. Doctor they built a house on a lot they had purchased at 858 Ecalson Avenue to which they moved in that year. Here they lived until 1948 when they moved to a house they had built at 101 Highland Ave Piedmont.

Charles Henry ran a carriage repair shop on the property which was quite picturesque: fruit trees on the back of the lot and an old waterwheel in the creek behind the old blacksmith shop add to the quaintness of the home.

The family became scattered as they married: Lydia remained in Columbus, Nora married Est Bryan and for some years lived outside of Walla Walla; later moved to western Washington; Otto H. was married twice - his last home was in Oregon; Commodore Perry farmed in North Eastern Washington until 1920 when he and his family moved to Oakland, California; Ben, former Harrison remained in Walla Walla where he ran a garage; Beulah and Randolph Harris Ree supervise and run a large wheat and pea ranch south of Walla Walla; Lorraine and husband Carl Trosbach lived in Washington, D.C. where they owned a shoe store; Willis and Katherine lived in Walla Walla where his son carries on his father's garage business; Leslie lives in Portland, Oregon and in 1974 having been married twice, is a widow.

John & Eve Markley-

It is not known where John and Eve Markley came from, but it is certain that they settled in ^{valley} Butler's Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania before the Revolutionary War.

The first assessment of Elk Lick Township was made in 1772 and it contains the name of John Markley with 900 acres, 10 acres cleared, 4 horses, and 5 cows. The Markley farm was known as "John's Fancy" as shown on a warrant dated 1786, and the patent (?) issued June 27, 1787. It contained 242 acres and is on the east side of the Casselman River.

(Near this area is Fort Necessity built by George Washington in 1754. Here on July 3, 1754 occurred the Battle of Great Meadows between George Washington and a small company fought a strong force of French and Indians and was the beginning of the French and Indian War.)

Other surveys to John Markley were:

Grassy Run	350 acres	1775	warrant 1774
* Flog Hill	175 acres	1775
Mount Joy	460 acres	1778	March 28

In addition, 300 acres were surveyed to John's wife Eve. It is said that John and Eve's survey were the best of any in the township. In all John Markley owned 1590 acres of land.

John Markley & Eve had seven children, three girls and four boys of whom Jacob was the oldest son. Eve signed her name with a mark. (Few women had an education.)

John sold "John's Fancy" to Joseph in 1788, the deed being dated January 1788. He sold "Grassy Run" and "Mount Joy" to his son-in-law Jacob Keagey.

John Markley died in 1796. His will was executed October 5, 1796 and admitted to probate October 1796. His son Jacob was executor.

* Flog Hill got its name from a fist fight over ownership of land between John ~~Markley~~ and a man by the name of Dugay.

John and Eve Markley.

It is not known where John and Eve Markley came from, but it is certain that they settled in Brothers Valley Township, Somerset County, Penn. before the Revolution.

The first assessment of Elk Lick Township was made in 1772 and it contains the name of John Markley with 200 acres, 10 acres cleared, 48 horses and 5 cows. The Markley farm was known as "John's Fancy", as shown on a warrant dated 1786, and the patent (?) issued June 27, 1787. It contained 942 acres and is on the east side of the Cattlemen's (Casselman) River.

Other surveys to John Markley were:

Gassay Run	350 A.	1775 (Warrent 1774)
* Flug Hill	175 A.	1775
Mount Joy	460 A.	1778, Mar. 25.

In addition, 300 acres were surveyed to John's wife Eve Markley. It is said that John and Eve's survey were the best of any in the township. In all, John Markley owned 1590 acres of land.

* Flug Hill got its name from a fist fight between John Markley and a man named Judy over ownership of a tract of land on the side of a rather steep hill.

John and Eve had seven children, three girls and four boys, of whom Jacob was the oldest son. Eve signed her name with a mask. (Few women had an education)

John sold "John's Fancy" to Joseph in 1788, the deed being dated January 1788. He sold Gassy Run and "Mount Joy" to his son-in-law Jacob Peagay.

John Markley died in 1796. His will was executed October 1796 and was admitted to probate in October 1796. His son Jacob was the executor.

John Markley died 1796. His will was executed October 5, 1796 and admitted to probate October 1796. His oldest son Jacob was named as executor.
